Desiderata
Go placidly amid the noise &
haste & remember what peace there may be
in silence.

*As far as possible without surrender
be on good terms with all persons.
Speak the truth quietly & clearly;
and listen to others,
even the dull & ignorant;
they too have their story.*

Avoid loud & aggressive persons,
they are vexations to the spirit.
If you compare yourself with others
you may become vain & bitter;
for always there will be greater & lesser persons than yourself.
Enjoy your achievements
as well as your plans.
Keep interested in your own
career, however humble;
it is a real possession
in the changing fortunes of time.
Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is;
many persons strive for high ideals;
and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love for in the face of all aridity & disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue & loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe,
no less than the trees & the stars;
you have a right to be here.

And whether or not it is clear to you,
no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore be at peace with God,
whatever you conceive Him to be,
and whatever your labors & aspirations,
in the noisy confusion of life
keep peace with your soul.

With all its sham, drudgery &
broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world.

Be careful.
Strive to be happy.

Found in old Saint Paul's church, Baltimore; dated 1692.

Long, long ago
roads stretched
out before us.
Paths criss-crossed and
intersected.
None of which we knew
a great deal about.
Nevertheless,
we attempted
we chose and
selected.
And an avenue
was elected.
One we traveled similarly.
One which led us here.
But it looks as if the track
is not as straight
as we once thought.
It looks like it
will up and
twist again.
Soon new routes
will call us and
carry us
into new worlds,
new journeys.
And we will take to the road
again.

It is the evening of February 10, and tomorrow is the final deadline for Footprints '81. As the last pages of the book are being completed, we look back over the past year and have many memories, both good and bad. Work on Footprints began last spring, and since its beginning events have occurred to change our lives.

Everyone at St. Joe's has grown throughout the year. Seniors are completing theses and are looking towards graduation. The semesters have gone by with tests, papers, hard work, and good times.

But as Desiderata says, "You are a child of the universe," and as such it is the events of the world around us which have affected us most. Politically, we saw the unpopular reinstatement of draft registration, and the landslide victory of Ronald Reagan, who at the age of 70 is the oldest president ever elected.

The death of John Lennon was one of the many senseless crimes in New York, and it affected all of us. He was someone whom we had grown up with and had become part of our lives. His passing was mourned by thousands.

As a long, cold winter is drawing to a close, New Yorkers face yet another problem. We are seeing a shortage of the one resource that everyone takes for granted, water. Much of the Northeast has been affected by a drought for several months.

The most memorable event of the year was the freeing of our 52 American hostages from Iran. Their courage and pride set an example for all America. Yellow ribbons became a symbol of unity and pride in the country.

As we look into the years ahead, we are unsure of what events will occur to again reshape our lives. We can only hope and pray that with the help of our education and inner strength we will have the courage to change what we can for the better, the strength to accept what we cannot change, and the wisdom to tell the difference between the two.

Our road at Saint Joseph's has come to an end. We met briefly, shared parts of ourselves with each other, and now must go our separate ways. We will always look back fondly upon our years at Saint Joseph's, but now it is time to take a journey into the future and a new beginning. "The road goes ever onward."

Many said it couldn't be done, but Footprints '81 has been completed. This could not have been accomplished without the help of many people to whom we would like to extend our sincerest thanks. Thank you.

The faculty and students of St. Joseph's who cooperated to make our task easier

Mrs. Gable, our moderator

S. Theresa Avila, who listened to our complaints and offered her advice

Teresa Heuser, who helped draw layouts for the senior section

John and Ed, who lent us their slides of New York

Denise Peirce, who used her talent to do our calligraphy

Ed Thornton and Thornton's Classic Photos who took our senior portraits, developed and printed our film, and always tried to help when we were in a rush

Frank Bolton, our Delmar representative, who was always available to help us

And especially our staff, whose generosity and cooperation made this book possible.
